

Question : Which of the following best describes the structure that collects urine in the body?

(A) Bladder (B) Kidney (C) Ureter (D) Urethra

Group 1

Group 2

The kidney collects urine as it forms before passing it to the ureters. The answer is B. ❌

The bladder collects and stores urine produced by the kidneys. The correct answer is A. ✅

Round 1

The structure that collects urine in the body is the ureter. Therefore, the correct answer is (C) Ureter. ❌

Kidney produces collect urine long-term. The answer is B. ❌

Using the solutions from other agents in the same group: ...

Using the solutions from other agents: ...

Kidney produces urine by filtering blood. The correct answer is A. ✅

After checking again, I think the answer is A. ✅

Round 2

I agree that the answer is B. ❌

Ureter transports urine. Therefore, the answer is B. ❌

Summary the solutions from all the agents: ...

Summary the solutions from all the agents: ...

Summary Pool

After reviewing the roles of each organ, all agents agree that the correct answer is: (A) Bladder

All the agents believe the answer is A. They think kidney produces and collects urine

Using the solutions from all groups: ...

Using the solutions from all groups: ...

The answer is B ❌

The kidneys produce urine, but the bladder holds it until it's eliminated from the body. So the answer is A. ✅

Round 3

After checking, I agree the answer is A. ✅

Kidney is incorrect because kidneys produce urine, they don't collect it. The answer is A. ✅

Majority Vote : The correct answer is actually A) Bladder. The kidneys (B) produce urine, but the bladder is the structure that collects and stores it. ✅